Martin, Joan and I will be discussing this later this morning (8/8). Martin assumes that he and I will be going to Durango and Silverton - the question is exactly which days. I will get back to you ASAP.

Will be meeting with EPA OSCs this morning. There's already a suggestion for a public meeting again tonight and one in Silverton probably on Monday. After thinking about it more I'm going to propose that EPA have an availability session this afternoon into the evening followed by a public meeting tomorrow evening once EPA and everyone else has had a chance to digest the date and be prepared to answer questions. I can then get a better understanding of all the concern and questions out there and spend some one on one time with people which I've had a few requests for.

Question to you Deb. Can we have a lot more robust answers around health, livestock, recreational exposures, if any, by tomorrow night, if not sooner. Also, think it would be great if you could come down and present the information:)

Thoughts? Libby

Dan and I will be talking soon and will give you a more official answer. He is on his way to Durango. My initial thought is that this slug will not appreciably add to precipitates that have previously deposited in the River sediments from historical mining activities.
